Comprehension

1. Why is Annemarie sent to see Mrs. Hirsch?
2. What did Peter give to Annemarie when he came by?
3. What news did Peter bring?

Point of View

The point of view of a story makes all the difference in the world. If a character is telling the story, the first person point of view is used. If none of the characters are telling the story, and an unseen narrator is telling it, the third person point of view is being used. If the narrator focuses on only one character, the limited third person point of view is used. If the narrator allows the reader to know thoughts and feelings of one character, then another’s, then another’s, the third person omniscient point of view is used.

Answer only one easy question to decide if this story is told in the first person point of view. If the answer is yes, it is first person!

• Is one of the characters telling this story? __________

Answer these questions to decide if the point of view is third person limited:

• Is there an unseen narrator telling the story?

• Is the focus on one particular character all of the time?

• When the focal character leaves the room in a story do you know what is going on with the other characters while that character is gone?

Answer these questions to decide if the point of view is third person omniscient:

• Is there an unseen narrator telling the story?
• Does the reader have access to the thoughts (not actions) of more than one character?
• Does the focus go from one character to another character, and then another?

Puzzled, Annemarie watched her mother leave the apartment. She went to the kitchen and opened the door to the cupboard where the potatoes were kept. Every night, now, it seemed, they had potatoes for dinner. And very little else. (page 22)

The bolded word puzzled tells us how Annemarie feels in this passage.

Do we know what her mother is thinking? __________

As the reader, are we aware of where her mother goes when she leaves the apartment or how her mother feels? __________

What point of view is used in this novel? ________________

Chapter 5

Comprehension
1. How was Lise killed?

2. What did Annemarie take from Ellen just before the Nazi officers entered their room?

3. What did Annemarie’s father show the soldier that made him believe that Ellen was Lise?

Foreshadowing occurs when the author gives the reader a hint of something that is going to happen before it actually happens. Foreshadowing can have two purposes.
- It builds suspense by raising questions within the reader’s mind and causes him/her to wonder what is going to happen.
- Foreshadowing can also make a story more believable by preparing the reader for events to come.

In chapter five, the soldiers bombarding Annemarie’s home is very suspenseful and frightening. There is some foreshadowing early in the chapter that hints of this action. Complete the following chart to analyze this literary technique.
